

Stone Ceremony:

You may have noticed that there was a small stone placed upon your chair today when you arrived. At this time I would like to ask you to take a minute to take this stone in your hand and say a prayer or make a wish for the couple. When you exit the ceremony there will be a vase to place the stones which will be displayed in the couple's home. This will forever contain the prayers and well wishes of Colin and Cassie's family and friends.

Guests make silent wishes/prayers with rocks individually – pause
