Welcome:

Olivia, Allison, Genevieve and Sara; Your mother and Doug are honored to have you join them here today for this special ceremony, joining your family into one. Your mother and Doug are getting married today because they love each other very much, and because they love each one of you very much.

Doug has been very much like a father to you all for a while now and by getting married, they are adding to the family and solidifying this role as he becomes your step-father and you all become his step-daughters.

Your mother and Doug want to share their life together and want you girls to be part of it all-along the way. They look forward to becoming even more of a family as the years go by and you all grow along together.

Vows:

Wendy, please repeat after me:

I Wendy, take you Doug, to be my husband
knowing in my heart that you will be a faithful friend
and a true and loving companion.

Today I give you my vow,
that as your wife,
I will always be with you and support you.
I promise to love and care for you
from this day forward,
for better or for worse,
in sickness and in health,
in good times and in bad
with all I have to give.
I promise to work by your side
to create a wonderful life,
together with you, and as a family.
I promise to laugh with you,
to nurture your dreams,
and to share with you,
life's simplest, but most enduring pleasures.
I promise to be truthful and honest with you,
and to cherish you for as long as we both shall live.
